Insurance Definitions

Deductible: The amount of money paid each year by the insured for medical care expenses before an insurance policy starts paying.

Coinsurance: The amount the insured is required to pay for medical care in a plan after the annual deductible has been met. Coinsurance rate is usually expressed as a percentage. For example, the insurance company pays 80% of the covered claim, and the you the insured pays the remaining 20%. This would be called 80/20.

Premium: The payment, or regular periodic payments, that a policyholder makes to own an insurance policy. Healthcare plan premiums are often expressed as a monthly premium payment.
